Dr. Kenneth Hugh Annett - Ken Annett deserves a special place in the hearts of many. He is perhaps best known to the readers of SPEC for his countless hours of research which produced the series Gaspé of Yesterday. Composed of over 400 articles on aspects of Gaspesian Heritage, Gaspé of Yesterday reflects the historic time-frame of Anglophone Gaspesian History. SPEC received a copy of each article and has published some 190 of them. The bound volumes can be consulted at the Gaspesian British Heritage Centre, the Gaspé Community Library, the Literary and Historical Society of Québec, the Bishop's University Library, the Archives of the Anglican Diocese of Quebec and the Archives nationales du Québec in Québec City. A few articles of Ken Annett, published by SPEC can be found among the David McDougall Collection at the QFHS library. Ken Annett is now deceased.

Dr. David J. McDougall - Also known as Professor McDougall, a former professor at Concordia University, historian and compiler of thousand of documents dealing with two centuries of settlement of the Gaspé Coast by English People. The David McDougall Collection at the QFHS Library is so voluminous that it is stored in a full filing cabined by itself. In addition to, David McDougall and his wife of many years Doris Ascah McDougall during a great number of years have compiled a fair number of information dealing with the Protestant Churches in the Gaspé region. Said compilations now stored among the QFHS Cemetery Binders. Both David McDougall and Doris Ascall are now deceased. - see: http://www.gogaspe.com/douglastown/twocenturies.html

Those who served

Towns & Villages

Bonaventure County

A county first settled by members of the Micmac First Nation - In the 1750's, the Acadians arrived - In 1784, the British Loyalists arrived and formed Cox Township. The Anglo Protestants or their descendants can be found in all hamlets, villages and towns of the county including Black Cape, Bonaventure, Caplan, Carleton, Cascapédia, Cox, Escuminiac, Grand Cascapedia, Hamilton, Hope Town, Mann, Maria, Matapédia, Millstream, New Carlisle, New Richmond, North Restigouche, Oak Bay, Paspebiac, Port Daniel, Restigouche, Ristigouche, Sellarsville, Shigawake.

Cox Township

An early sub-county on the Bay of Chaleur established in 1784 during the migration northward of United Empire Loyalists - The region is now part of Bonaventure county and more specifically within the townships of New Carlisle, New Richmond, Paspebiac - In 1785, Captain Nicholas Cox, Lieutenant Governor of Gaspé, promised to endeavour to find and secure a clergyman, for there were none in the Peninsula.

Gaspé County

The birthplace of New France (La Nouvelle France) - The Anglo Protestant presence dates back to the 1760's - Channel Islanders from Jersey and Guernsey, Scottish, British, Irish immigrants were all early settlers. About 1784, the United Empire Loyalists arrived in Cox Township on the Chaleurs Bay. Douglastown near present-day Gaspé City, also experienced the arrivals of American families (non-Loyalists), these families might have preceded those of Cox Township.

Matapédia County

Located north of Bonaventure county. The Anglo Protestant presence within this county was limited to the villages of Sayabec, Kempt (Road) and Matapédia River Valley - The first Protestants were from Scotland in the 1790's, although, few in numbers, the hamlets and villages they pioneered still have a small Scottish presence in the 21st century.

Scope of church fonds for the region
The following compilation will illustrate in part where and when the Anglo Protestants resided in this eastern peninsula - In regard to documents of marriages, baptisms and deaths which are not available at Ancestry.ca or at various branches of the Archives nationales du Québec (BAnQ) or at the Anglican Archives in Lennoxville or at the United Church Archives in Sackville, NB or at the Provincial Archives of New Brunswick (PANB) in Fredericton, please refer to the end of this compilation for a listing of sources, which might shed light on your research process - Unfortunately, many early church documents of the "Gaspees" are simply lost. A number of dedicated researchers have compiled or/and are presently researching the content of cemeteries, court house records, government records, notary records, municipal records in order to further augment the source material content - The collection of data at Quebec Family History Society dealing with baptisms, marriages and deaths for this region is substantial to say the least, an unknown factor to most outsiders, except naturally the QFHS members who regularly visit the QFHS Library.

Missionary Societies - During the early years of the Anglo Protestant presence in the Gaspé Peninsula, the ministerial endeavours from about 1790 onwards, were carried out by Missionary Societies from Québec City (London Missionary Society - Church of England) -

Québec City (Dispersed Protestant Congregations - Church of England) -

Jersey-Guernsey Channel Islands (Rev. Peter (Pierre) Simon, a British Wesleyan Methodist preacher -

Campbellton NB (Rev. John Young - Presbyterian minister) - Campbellton NB (Rev. James Steven - Presbyterian) - Campbellton NB (Rev. Edward Pidgeon - Presbyterian minister) -

Campbellton NB (Rev. Robert A. Chesley - Methodist minister) - Miramichi NB (Rev. Alex Russell - Presbyterian minister) and as such, a number of early church documents are simply not found among those of the churches and missions of the Gaspé Peninsula but are kept somewhere else, and this is in part the object of this exercise.

A Loyalist town, a village in the vicinity of New Richmond within the township of New Richmond - see; Info Gaspésie - http://www.infogaspesie.com/ville.php

1803 – The Missionary Society of London - Mission of Black Cape - First organized in 1803 as a mission - The first minister to visit Black Cape was Rev. Edward Pidgeon in 1803 from the New Carlisle Church - no known early surviving church registers - see New Carlisle for church registers from 1811 onward -

1831 - Black Cape Presbyterian Church – In 1831 a permanent log cabin was erected - In 1839 Rev. John Brooke arrived from Scotland to serve the Black Cape church, he stayed until 1843 - He was also the pastor at the New Richmond Presbyterian Church - see New Richmond for content of church registers. From 1843 to 1851, Rev. John Davidson and Rev. Abe Wallace served. From 1861 to 1879, Rev. John Wells served. source: Ken Annett and Olive Willett-Smith

1895 - Black Cape Presbyterian Church - In 1895 a permanent Presbyterian church was erected under the ministry of Rev. George F. Kinnear. Others who also served were Rev.Edward Pidgeon from New Carlisle, - source- Ken Annett, Gaspé of Yesterday - no known surviving church registers - In 1974 the Miramichi Presbytery would close the church - Most likely, the church registers can be found among those of Miramichi Pastoral Charge

1942 – Christian Brethren - see New Richmond for possible surviving parish registers

Bonaventure - County of Bonaventure
A Loyalist town, at least in part, for Acadians were already settled in the village when Loyalists arrived. A village within Bonaventure county between Caplan and Paspébiac - It appears that Episcopalian Missionaries most likely from Lévis (across the St. Lawrence from Québec City) would have visited the region about 1784 or perhaps even prior. Could not find church records in order to confirm this claim by an historian from Lévis, Québec. It is possible that an Episcopalian Minister would have boarded a cargo ship from Québec City to various ports (villages) located on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, the Bay of Gaspé and the Bay of Chaleur, but unfortunately, such church documents did not survive - A most likely scenario would deal with the Episcopalian Circuit Ministry of Anse à Brillant (Brilliant Cove) up the coast in Gaspé Bay which had been visited by an Episcopalian Minister in 1840. see the latter as a possible source - see: Info Gaspésie - http://www.infogaspesie.com/ville.php

Bridgeville - County of Gaspé see Malbay
Brilliant Cove - County of Gaspé see Anse-à-Brillant

Broadlands - County of Bonaventure
A Loyalist town or it appears to be so. The region from about 1784 was also settled by disbanded British Army soldiers and officers and perhaps a few Loyalist families - A village on the Bay of Chaleur in the region of Escuminac, Restigouche, Matapedia, Pointe à la Garde, Flatlands, Broadlands, Sellarsville, Kempt Road, Runnymede, Oak Bay - see; Gaspe Peninsula - Info Gaspésie
After 1899 - Saint John’s Presbyterian Mission - see Escuminac for details of fonds under Escuminac-Campbellton Pastoral Charge - see also Sillarsville - see also Flatlands - Provincial Archives New Brunswick PANB Fredericton, films #F-1098 Pastoral Charge #405 (1784-1865 under Campbellton - First Escuminac) #F-14970 Pastoral Charge #405 (1811-1984 under Campbellton - First Escuminac) Please note, QFHS Library can offer you the possibility of ordering microfims from PANB through the Inter-Library-Program.

Cap des Rosiers - Rosebuds - County of Gaspé - Also referred to as Rosebuds, the latter within Gaspé township, a few km east of the city in a region known as Bay of Gaspé North or Baie de Gaspé Nord - Most likely a Loyalist town at the second or third generations of Loyalist families in the Gaspé Peninsula - see; Info Gaspésie - http://www.infogaspesie.com/ville.php

1872 – Gaspé County Anglican Missions - no known surviving church registers, see under Gaspé (city) - see also; http://www.greaterparishofgaspe.ca/

Cape Cove - Anse du Cap - County of Gaspé
A Loyalist town, first settled by Josiah Cass, a Loyalist from Charlotte County, New York - A village within Percé township also referred to as Anse du Cap and located within Percé township - see; Info Gaspésie - http://www.infogaspesie.com/ville.php

1824 – Cape Cove Saint James Anglican - From 1837 Rev. William Arnold, Rev. Edward Cusak were appointed - Saint James was organized as a church in 1853 and located at 164 route 132, Percé - Anglican Archives Quebec Diocese in Lennoxxville - parish registers (1864-1994), contact Archives - James Sweeny, archivist jssweeny@ubishops.ca - BAnQ films #M-176.26 (1824-1884) #M-176.30 (1885-1900) #3052 (1824-1825 & 1840-1842 & 1845-1941) - Drouin-Pépin (1824-1825 & 1840-1842 & 1845-1941) - Ancestry.ca (1824-1825 & 1840-1842 & 1845-1941) - the latter are listed under Percé- Cap Cove Anglican - see; L'église Saint James de Cape Cove - http://id.erudit.org/iderudit/70670ac

Cape Hope - Cap d'Espoir - County of Gaspé
South of Percé, a village which might have been a Loyalist town at one point in time - Loyalist historians declared that a Loyalist town by the name of Hopetown was listed as an actual original Loyalist town, the latter town is located within Bonaventure county - see; Info Gaspésie - http://www.infogaspesie.com/ville.php

Cape Ozo - County of Gaspé
See Cap aux Os, an anglicized spelling of the latter - To my knowledge, not a Loyalist town - see; Info Gaspésie - http://www.infogaspesie.com/ville.php

Caplan - County of Bonaventure
